A message from Rev Rachel.

January 2025

Dear Friends,

In the dark nights of winter, it is good to find things that bring solace. For many, that is addictive television! I am writing this in January where two TV shows are dominating conversation and they both are centred around something hidden coming into the light.

On BBC1, there's been the Traitors. There are a handful of 'Traitors' whose job is to 'murder' the 'Faithful' all the while the Faithfuls are trying to banish the Traitors. Each episode the person who is banished has to reveal whether they are a Traitor or a Faithful, to dismay or jubilation. By the time you read this, the show will be over, and it will be known who has made it to the final and won the large prize pot – were they a super-sleuth Faithful or a charming-but-conniving Traitor?

On the other side, on ITV, there has been The Masked Singer. Here there are celebrities singing disguised in elaborate costume and the judges try and guess their identities. Each show somebody is eliminated and, to shouts of 'take it off', the mask is removed to reveal who is the mystery singer.

The shows are full of suspense: who is wearing the cloak and who is behind the mask? The revelations are exciting.

At the beginning of February in the Church we remember Candlemas and this is depicted in a beautiful stained glass window in All Saints (near the new servery). This is the time where baby Jesus is brought to the temple and two people are given the gift of prophetic insight to recognise who he truly is. Simeon and Anna saw that this was not just any baby but 'a light for revelation.' Another part of the Bible describes God as the one 'by whose light we see light.'

For Christians, Christ is described as the light of the world, and this is a source of hope in times that are dark and confusing. This is of great comfort; when institutions or politicians or even our friends and family let us down, there is a greater source of wisdom and insight.

Where do we need revelation in our lives? Perhaps we need insight for how to deal with an issue affecting our relationships, perhaps for a tricky person at our work, perhaps a personal problem that feels too big for us to handle.

I wonder what might happen if we asked God for the light of revelation this month. I'm often surprised by how prayer changes things, why not try it?

May Christ the Son of Righteousness scatter the darkness before your path and shine his light upon you.

With love

Rachel

Rayne Churchyard.

Christmas is a time for joy and celebration, it is also a time for remembering those no longer with us whom we love and miss, and it is lovely to see so many floral tributes and wreaths laid in our beautiful churchyard.

However, to keep the churchyard fresh, seasonal, and looking it's best, could we please ask that such seasonal tributes are removed by the second week of February.

Thank you for your help in keeping our churchyard looking so lovely.

Colin and Graham (churchwardens)

ALL AGE SERVICE - CHRISTINGLE

We were delighted to see a packed church at our our All Age Service this month. The service was all about the light of Jesus coming into the world.

We made Christingles and talked about their significance (and yes, Rev Roman did dress up as a human Christingle!!) Freya read beautifully from the book of Isaiah and Charlotte and William read the prayers of intercession.

We all took part in the actions for the hymns and after the service enjoyed a hot drink and biscuits.

Our next All Age Service is on February 9th -

We would love to see you there.

A message from a dog owner TO ALL DOG OWNERS IN RAYNE

“I have already put a post on the Rayne Facebook group to warn villagers that Kennel Cough is in the village. My dog has sadly been diagnosed with it even though it has been vaccinated. Kennel Cough can be brutal and is highly contagious and can not only be passed on by nose to nose contact it is also airborne and can be left on a leaf for example when an infected dog has sniffed it and left a droplet there. I never knew how badly this could affect dogs and I don't want to see it spread further. It is very upsetting to watch your beloved pet go through this and you can only leave them to fight it. “

News received as this edition went to print is that this beloved pet has now died

INFORMATION FROM Bluecross.org.uk

- Kennel cough is a respiratory infection caused by a number of bacteria and viruses.
- It is not usually dangerous and normally clears up without treatment within a few weeks.
- Apart from your dog coughing, the infection is unlikely to make them feel ill.
- But puppies, elderly dogs and those with existing medical conditions can be susceptible to complications from kennel cough, such as pneumonia.
- Kennel cough has an incubation period of two to 14 days.

A kennel cough vaccine is available and is often required for a stay in kennels where the highly contagious infection can spread easily.

Do let me know if you need any assistance. The proposals on how the new collection regime and what extra items that will be able to be collected from the kerbside is also shown in the graphic below.

GOOD NEWS!
You would be able to recycle a wider variety of items at kerbside

I have been asked and seen many comments on social media, asking if it is worth responding to the consultation, as “the Council won't take any notice.” My response is that it is crucial for residents to provide feedback during the consultation process. Without input from the community, the council might make assumptions that do not reflect the concerns or preferences of those directly affected by the decisions. Public consultation is a key part of ensuring that any changes made are in line with what the community wants or needs. For example, there are questions in the consultation that ask about your current number of bags you put out for recycling and how full is your black bin on emptying day. This will give the Council vital information on future requirements. Therefore, I would encourage everyone to participate in the consultation—whether to raise concerns or offer supportive comments— it helps guide the Council in making decisions that truly reflect the needs and desires of residents, while managing the new policies that the Council must follow.

As a follow up 1000 people responded to the consultation in the first 24 hours and over 3000 by day three of the consultation!

So why is the District Council making changes?

Government changes. All District Councils must comply with the Environment Act 2021's Simpler Recycling policy. This requires that glass and soft plastics must be collected from the kerbside, neither of these are currently collected. Flats/apartments must also take part in food waste collections Improve recycling rates. BDC has an ambitious 75% recycling rate, while the Essex Waste Strategy is set at 65%. The District is performing not well with our rate at under 50%. We need to do better. Achieving higher recycling rates will reduce the amount of waste going to landfill and to the new incinerator that is scheduled to be operational sometime in 2026.

From my inbox and social media, I know there are concerns with the proposals, especially in relation to the frequency of the black bin collection

how to store two extra wheelee bins. The rational for two extra wheelee bins, is so that cardboard can be stored separately. Much too often cardboard is contaminated or wet and then it cannot be recycled. This is why the proposal is not a 'chuck it all in one bin' and sort later approach.

Bin collection rota too complicated. The Council will be looking in ways to how to make this easier for residents. (I even found myself chasing the bin lorry down the road this morning, to get my bin emptied, as I had got the date wrong!) Solutions could include an app or signing up to text alerts. It has been asked if printed calendars can be reinstated.

Equally I have received comments of support, especially in the implementation of glass collections and not using one use plastic bags to collect the recycling.

If the proposed changes mean you may need extra support, for example with assisted collections, medical needs, hygiene products, issues with large households or properties with space restrictions, the Council really does need your feedback.

I will continue to ask officers and the administration questions on your behalf, during the numerous member briefings that are being held. We need to get the balance right of complying with legislation and a workable system for residents.

In other news...

I am still awaiting updates on Queenborough Lane and Duck End Green potholes. Great to see the drains have been repaired on The Street!

As usual, if you do require my assistance or would like to reach out to me, my email address is cclr.ahooks@braintree.gov.uk This is my preferred method of contact. Although, in an emergency I can be contacted on my mobile, 07852 552247. I also have active social media pages, Facebook (Cllr Ann Hooks) and Instagram page (cclr_ann_hooks), where you can keep up to date with what I am up to! I also now have an X (formerly known as Twitter) account, you can follow me @CllrAnnHooks .

Wildlife Reports, till January 2025

Tim Wignall, Pound Farm Cottage 28/12, besides the normal birds in the garden has seen a Wren, Great Spotted Woodpecker, Long-tailed Tits, a Sparrowhawk that did not catch anything and a Fallow Deer in the lane by his cottage.

Phil Monk Smithsfield 30/12 reported that during Christmas week he had two Jays, a pair of great Spotted Woodpeckers, two Coal Tits, a pair of Blackcaps, a Goldcrest and 7 Long-tailed Tits visiting the garden and feeding on the fat balls. On 18/12 the trail cam picked up a hedgehog at night.

31/12 Phil had a pair of Lesser Redpolls feeding on Sunflower hearts, a good Christmas present.

Richard and Julia Harvey 2/01, sent me a picture of a Jay sitting in their apple tree. It is very keen on the fat balls.

Andrew Whittaker, Vaughan Close 6/1/2025 had his first sighting of a Long-tailed Tit in his garden. This is a bird that is in the top 10 of birds recorded in the RSPB Garden Birdwatch. We get occasional visits at Goulds but I only get a few reports of its presence in Rayne gardens. Andrew rakes up the dead leaves in his garden and once the garden plants die back, he spreads the leaves round the garden beds. This then keeps the Blackbirds and Wrens occupied searching through them for insects. He also throws any apples that are past their best onto the lawn for the Blackbirds. Andrew obviously thinks this is a better way of disposing them than in the green bin. At Goulds the Moorhens enjoy our waste or damaged apples.

At Goulds we get daily fly pasts by a Red Kite and rarely by a Common Buzzard. The Kite now appears to accept the presence of us humans watching it. Chaffinches in the past have never been seen in numbers until recently. We now have daily visits in double figure numbers of both sexes. I believe this is because I scatter Sunflower Hearts on the lawn and the finches prefer to feed on the ground. All the last autumn we have had at least 6 male Blackbirds feeding. They have now been joined by two or three females. Since I reduced feeding of the ducks their numbers have declined to one resident pair which get a small offering of food. They are joined by 6 male ducks on some days who are getting their food from elsewhere and so long as they do not attract females they will be tolerated. I cannot get to the situation of last year when I had counts of over 50 including ducklings on our garden pond and farm lagoon. This was my fault as I fed all the ducklings who grew and then polluted the water with their droppings.

The recent cold weather and snow provided evidence of the garden wildlife. The duck prints in the snow on the ice-covered pond were very attractive as only the bones in their feet showed in the thin snow. The prints of Badger, Fox and two species of deer confirmed the accesses used when they visited.

I was crossing the lawn to refill some of the bird feeders at 9.0am one morning when a Muntjac deer crossed in front of me at about 15m away. It must have been aware of my presence before I saw it but it still continued its leisurely trot around the garden. Mark Giles told me about 4 Roe deer that were seen at the Duckend Green allotments. I then also saw them either on the allotment site or the nearby fields on several occasions. I always view this species as the most attractive of the deer we have.

Last month I forgot to report an amazing view I had from our kitchen window when watching birds from our kitchen window in November. It was a Treecreeper which I viewed at distances of only 1.5m. I used to get regular reports of sightings on the Fritch Way in past years, but I had never seen one in Rayne. I realise it could be a Short-Toed Treecreeper hence my reluctance to report it. It is a small bird with a thin down-curved beak and a whitish breast. It took no notice of me until it disappeared. My most interesting meeting with a creeper was in a wood and I was having a pee behind the trunk of a large tree. The bird landed on the tree trunk only inches from me. I am not sure which of us was the most surprised, but the creeper decided to fly off and not stay to embarrass me.

To continue my description of the trees growing on the Village Green, the tree shown in the picture is a Black Walnut, Juglans nigra growing near the drive to Rayne Hall. It has interested parishioners over the last two years as it has had a heavy crop of fruit. The second picture shows a compound leaf and a single fruit which is which is 50-60mm in diameter. The fruit of this tree has a small irregular nut in the centre and surrounded by a green fibrous material like the British walnut. In parts of the USA it is widely grown for its dark which is of a high quality. In the USA one can buy a special hand walnut cracker to crack the nut. I can understand this as I used a large hammer to crack the nuts I investigated. The nut on our tree was not worth eating so I assume the American trees are of a different variety. Rayne Parishioner's like me have discovered this as the fruit does not disappear like the nuts from under a British walnut.
